

You've probably been on a few great vacations in your life. Maybe you went to the Rocky Mountains for a great winter get away and skied some unforgettable slopes. Maybe you took a trip to NYC to see the Big Apple in person and ended up seeing the iconic view from the top of the Empire State Building. But have you ever visited an ocean side city and gone whale watching? If you haven't you're missing out! Actually allowing you to get up close and personal with some of the world's most mysterious and beautiful creatures, whale watching can be an incredible experience you'll remember forever.

That said, booking your whale watching experience on a private charter with Bikes and Hikes LA is going to be the ultimate way to experience these majestic creatures for yourself.

Offering those who choose to embark on their own whale watching adventure — via this private tour — the experience of sailing on a luxury charter yacht, this tour is easily one of, if not the, finest around.

Setting sail for three to four hours, (depending on your preference), you will enjoy a personalized experience full of splendor from start to finish. From the complementary charcuterie platter, water, juices and soda, to the wine and beer, on board stewards, USB enabled stereo system and of course Wi-Fi, you as a guest will experience the height of luxury and relaxation while onboard. Plus, if you really want to make the experience your own, Bikes and Hikes LA offers a number of additional amenities you are able to purchase, including: luxury transportation services, upgraded catering and/or beverages while on board, wine tastings with professional sommelier, guest souvenirs and more!

Setting all of these amazing amenities aside however, there is also what you are actually going to get to see. Viewing over half a dozen whales or more per trip, you will get to experience the gray whale migration for yourself (during winter and spring months), or see majestic blue and finback whales (during the summer and fall months) up close! Additionally the chances of you getting a glimpse of a minke, humpback and even killer whale are pretty good! And of course you will get to see all kinds of additional marine life, including several species of dolphin, sea lions, seals, etc.

Perfect for anyone who is looking for that "something extra special" on their next vacation, the Bikes and Hikes LA Private Charter Whale Watching tour is the best and most relaxing way to see these majestic creatures for yourself.
