

10 Myths About Dating Women

All of us are trying to find that "someone special", however the search can be discouraging at times. We go on date after date and never make the kind of connection we are looking for. Thankfully, though, there might be reason for this. You might be acting on ideas that have turned out to be total myths — allowing them to guide your dating — thus hurting your "game". And while there are no guarantees on any date, getting rid of some of these ideas might help you out.

Women expect men to make the first move.

This may have been true fifty years ago, but it's not the case today. A lot of modern day women aren't afraid to speak up and go after exactly what it is they want, making their feelings known.

Always agree with a woman of she'll loose interest.

This is totally false. Don't be afraid to speak your mind and stick to your beliefs. It will make you appear confident and strong, as apposed to desperate and fickle.

Women only ever want to talk about feelings.

Everybody has emotions, but this doesn't mean everybody wants to sit around and talk about them for hours on end, regardless of whether they are her emotions or yours. So, don't assume they do.

All women want a "manly man".

Sure, some women prefer the surly, macho, type, but just as many enjoy a man more comfortable showing his more sensitive side. You just need to find the right type of woman for you.

All women want to rush into a committed relationship.

There's nothing wrong with wanting a committed relationship. However, women often feel just as uneasy as men do about commitment. So just take it slow, feel it out and don't assume anything.

Women expect you to pay for everything.

While it's great to offer, don't assume you'll be paying for everything; in the modern world women take pride in taking care of themselves. On the other hand, never assume the women is paying for everything either.

You need to be rich or good looking to get a woman to date you.

Sure, having money or looks is an intriguing factor, but the vast majority of women aren't gold diggers or as shallow as you might think. So, embrace who you are and grow your personal confidence.

Women only like "bad boys".

A lot of women go through the “I only date ‘bad boys’ or jerks” phase. However, most women grow out of this quickly, realizing it’s not something they want at all. Especially if they want a healthy and functioning relationship someday, so don’t be a jerk, because it probably won’t impress anyone.

Women love being showered in compliments.

Everybody loves a complement now and then. However, showering your date with them is not only going to make her feel uncomfortable, it will also begin to make your compliments sound less genuine.

You should wait a few days before texting or calling.

Don’t date as if you are actually in a dating game. If you like her and want to see her, call her. If she’s really into you, it won’t matter that you didn’t wait some pre-approved number of days before expressing your thoughts.